Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us.

Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Mr. Ben Boxum

Dear Students of LCH:

Dedicating the 1986 Excelsior to your parents is a beautiful decision.

The Bible speaks often about parent/child relationships. In the fifth commandment God had Moses record, "Honor your father and mother that your days may be long in the land which Jehovah your God gives you".

Proverbs and Psalms frequently give counsel for children to parents and for parents to children.

In His wisdom, God decreed that following the original human creation of Adam and Eve, all other human kind, except Jesus Christ and Melchisedek, would enter life through means of human conception and birth. That's really quite marvelous when you think about it. Twenty years ago the members of LCH student body didn't even exist.

Under God's providence, you really owe your life to your parents, don't you? God used them to make you a human creature and a member of LCH student body in 1986.

It costs physical, emotional, and psychological pain as well as much concern about your spiritual life. Among your parents I expect there are a few exceptions (I hope there are none) who haven't experienced pain because of you. Do you know why? It is because your parents love you!

Real, true love invariably causes pain. Love is a very costly, fragile, immeasurable commodity. You can't see it, weigh it, or buy it. The evidence of it is in the service given because of it.

Real, true love also gives great joy! Joy unspeakable in many ways. A parent's love for a child and a child's love for a parent will endure severe storm and stress if indeed the love is true.

God, through Jesus Christ, demonstrated without equal how much love costs. Read it in John 3:16. Christian parents and Christian children are reflectors of Christ's love when their relationship is patterned after God's love.

You young people have been taught that at Lynden Christian in a variety of ways. If you love Christ first of all, you will discover how beautiful it is to also love your parents. Jesus demonstrated this for us from the cross when he said to his mother- "Dear woman, here is your son", and to the disciple, "Here is your mother". From that time on, this disciple took her into his home. John 19:26-27. Isn't that a touching object lesson for a Christian parent/child relationship?

I think your parents will cherish the fact that you students dedicated the 1986 Excelsior to them.

You, by so doing, have honored your father and your mother. God will bless you for honoring them.

Congratulations and Shalom,
Ben H. Boxum, Supt.

Barb Visser, editor

This year on the Hi Lite staff has been great. Having worked on the staff for 3 years I can honestly say this year has been the best. Everyone on the staff worked together (most of the time) even though controlling tempers was a little hard at times. As Mr. Ypma always said, we were a bunch of headstrong and independent people.

What a bunch of memories we made too! Going to U.W., getting a flat tire, and playing at McDonald's; our first issue where nobody knew what they were doing; our late night layout sessions and "all those cheese balls!"; David losing his keys and earning his purple and green spaz shirt; last year's twerp date TP adventure at Mr. Ypma's house; Karen and I chasing Zisser-combo pizzas all over Bellingham; and winning.

It's been a full year and I'd like to thank everyone that's made it great: Kathy Cobb, Winnie De Vries, Sheri Burns, Kristi Scheffer, Tami Visser, Steve Kramer, Nico Laninga, Karen Kramer, David Henken, Len Smit, Debbie Slater, and of course, Mr. Ypma.

I've gotten to know you all so well and some lifetime friendships have been made. I love you guys! -your editor, Barb Visser

Fashion Show

The theme of this year's fashion show was Vacation Land U.S.A. It was held on the afternoon of May 2, 1986. Needless to say the clothes and the models were a great success.

Creative Arts

Fine Arts Week: April 14-18, 1986

Creative Arts Week provided a variety of entertainment; including Ukranian Folk Dancers, local talent as well as student performances, and a jazz ensemble. In addition to these, the students were given the opportunity to participate in different workshops, ranging from toy making, to archery, to photography. "Thank you" to all who participated, and to the Creative Arts Committee who made this week possible.

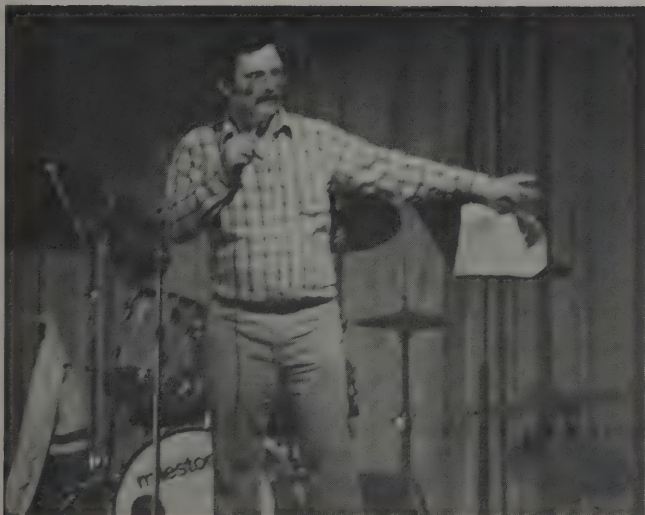

Student choice award by Jodi Hoksbergen.

"Give beauty back to God.

Beauty's God and beauty's giver."

Chapel

Chapel is conducted on Tuesday and Friday and is a time when students and faculty can get away from school work and "take time out" for God. Chapels consist of homerooms, local pastors, special speakers, and others, too.

Acknowledgements

It is the privilege for the annual's editor to write a synopsis of the year's job as editor. In addition to the work I did, there were others who also contributed to making this year's annual the book that it is.

Thank you Mr. Hof, I appreciate(d) so much the many questions you answered and the patience you showed in regard to this, as well as for mailing and doing all the calling. Thank you for telling me I could do it, without this encouragement it would've been impossible. Thank you Sheri Dykstra for your creative input, and for the hours you contributed to this book; I know you'll do an excellent job next year. Thanks Greg and Tim for faithfully taking and developing pictures; I really appreciate the time you invested in doing your job. Karen Vander Veen and her staff did such an excellent job in doing ads. I know it was tough to do it all twice, thank you for that extra effort. Thank you Darlene Sytsma for taking care of the senior index for me, I appreciate so much the responsibility you showed in getting this finished. Thank you Joyce Honcoop for always being so willing to get lists, and for all the "little" things, (which are really big things, that you've done. And finally, thank you to everyone who invested any time at all. I appreciated your suggestions, errands, and the work you contributed to the 1986 Excelsior, (Melodie Van Ry's name comes to mind here, and others', too). Thank you to all of you; when I look at this annual, I'll certainly remember you, too.

In addition to remembering the people, I'll also remember that most of our money was stolen. Actually, while I'm writing this, I'm not even sure there's going to be an annual for 1986, and after all the time invested in it, I get physically sick thinking about what "might" happen.

I also remember deadlines, and lying in bed at night and suddenly remembering I made a huge mistake that day in layout and that I'd have to go back and do it all over. For every mistake you see, for everything you don't like, I see at least 2 things that I should've done differently; mistakes haunt me.

But I also remember fruit flies in the darkroom and in a locker. I remember running through the hall with "borrowed" forks and paper plates and eating "forbidden fruit" in the annual room. I remember long talks with Sheri. I remember how happy we were when those first proofs came back, it was as good as Christmas to see the work we'd done completed. I've got so many memories wrapped up in doing this book; I hope I've captured some of your memories of the year, too.

High school is only 4 years of our lives, and when you come right down to it, that's not very long. Lynden Christian will either prepare you to live a life pleasing to our Lord, a life that promises "fullness of joy" (John 15:11), or it'll be a place where you receive "academic instruction". The responsibility is up to you, "fullness of joy" begins when you accept the Savior, "academic instruction" begins in kindergarten. High school is a time when you're forced to make tough decisions, what you are committed to will reflect the way that you choose to go.

Best wishes to you who are continuing at Lynden Christian, and to all my classmates - I wish you the best in your futures. -Because of Him I could complete this annual. Nancy Plagerman, editor.
